Legend
Saturated	All major platforms are already present, making the market highly competitive. Success depends on offering faster service, building customer trust, and maintaining competitive pricing.
Contested	Several competitors operate in this market, but no single platform has established clear leadership. Strong execution and a better customer experience can help a new entrant stand out.
Partial	A few players are available, but the market remains relatively unorganized. This creates a good opportunity for new businesses to establish a strong presence.
Niche	Only a small number of specialist or informal providers operate in these categories, and there is no major aggregator. This offers an attractive early mover opportunity for RocketSingh.

Key Insight: Kathmandu’s home services market is active but highly fragmented. Several service categories, including carpentry, plumbing, electrical work, AC services, painting, pest control, deep cleaning, and packing and moving, are already saturated with multiple competitors. However, no single platform has established clear market leadership, leaving trust and service reliability as key opportunities for differentiation. On the other hand, Airbnb maintenance has only two known organized providers, making it a relatively untapped market. Services such as Chef at Home, Home Automation, Indoor Planting, Physiotherapy, and Airbnb Maintenance remain niche categories with very few organized competitors, creating strong early entry opportunities for RocketSingh.

Tech Disruption Opportunities

Kathmandu's home services market is largely undigitized. Most customers still book services through phone calls, Facebook messages, or personal referrals instead of dedicated apps or platforms. This creates a significant opportunity for RocketSingh to build customer habits from the beginning rather than compete against well-established digital platforms. The four service categories below offer the strongest potential for technology-driven customer loyalty and recurring revenue.

1. Salon at Home

Kathmandu’s at-home beauty market has many service providers, but very little customer relationship management. Most bookings happen through Instagram, Facebook, or individual contacts, and customers often need to explain their preferences every time they book. This creates an opportunity for RocketSingh to deliver a more personalized and convenient experience.

Stylist Memory and One-Tap Rebooking

Store each customer’s preferred stylist, service, time slot, and location after the first booking. For future appointments, these details are automatically filled in, allowing customers to confirm their booking in just one tap. This makes repeat bookings faster and more convenient.

Festival and Wedding Season Automation

Demand for beauty services increases during Dashain and Tihar, the wedding season, and Teej. RocketSingh can automatically send personalized offers and service bundles to previous customers before these peak periods, encouraging repeat bookings with minimal ongoing effort.

Regrowth Reminders through Viber or WhatsApp

Services such as threading and waxing are typically repeated every three to four weeks. RocketSingh can send timely reminders through Viber or WhatsApp based on each customer's last appointment, making it easier for them to book again and helping build long-term customer loyalty.

2. AC Services

With 14 competitors in Kathmandu, AC services is one of the most competitive home service categories. However, most providers rely on customers to initiate bookings. This gives RocketSingh an opportunity to stand out by proactively engaging customers and encouraging repeat service.

Auto-Scheduling at Checkout

After a customer book an AC service, automatically schedule the next maintenance visit three months later and send a reminder through Viber. Customers who pre-book two service visits can receive a small discount, encourage repeat business and improve customer retention.

Pre-Summer Service Reminders

Demand for AC servicing increases before Kathmandu's summer, particularly in April and May. RocketSingh can automatically notify previous customers in March, reminding them to service their AC units before the busy season begins. This helps customers plan while increasing bookings during peak demand.

Dust Season Maintenance Reminders

Kathmandu experiences high levels of dust, especially during the dry season from October to April. Customers who have not serviced their AC in the past four months can receive an automated message reminding them that dust buildup may affect performance and that it may be time for a filter cleaning or maintenance check. This provides timely value to customers while generating recurring service opportunities.

3. Pest Control

Pest control is a highly competitive category in Kathmandu, with 11 providers already operating in the market. However, most businesses rely on customers to contact them only after a pest problem appears. RocketSingh can differentiate itself by offering proactive and preventive services that encourage repeat business.

Pre-Monsoon Campaign

Before the monsoon season begins, RocketSingh can automatically send preventive pest control offers to previous customers. Positioning the service to protect homes before the rains arrive can encourage early bookings, especially among families concerned about mosquitoes and other seasonal pests.

Annual Protection Plan

Introduce a yearly pest control package that includes two scheduled treatments, one before the monsoon and one after it. Customers pay once and receive both services automatically, providing convenience while creating predictable recurring revenue for RocketSingh.

Termite Season Alerts

Termite activity often increases after the monsoon when ground moisture remains high. RocketSingh can send automated reminders in September to homeowners, particularly in older residential areas, recommending preventive termite inspections or treatments before infestations become severe. This creates an additional seasonal revenue opportunity while helping customers avoid costly damage.

4. Deep Cleaning

Deep cleaning is one of the most competitive home service categories in Kathmandu, with 14 providers in the market. However, it is also a service that customers need repeatedly throughout the year, such as after festivals, before moving into a new home, or following renovations. This creates an opportunity for RocketSingh to build long-term customer loyalty through automated follow-ups and timely reminders.

Post-Festival Campaigns

Demand for deep cleaning typically increases after major festivals such as Dashain and Tihar. RocketSingh can automatically send promotional offers to previous customers shortly after each festival, encouraging them to schedule a post-festival deep clean and generating recurring seasonal demand.

Move-In and Post-Renovation Cleaning

Partner with renovation companies and interior service providers to recommend deep cleaning immediately after renovation projects are completed. Since post-renovation cleaning is a common customer need, these partnerships can create a steady source of referrals and additional bookings.

Biannual Cleaning Reminders

Keep track of each customer’s last deep cleaning appointment and automatically send a reminder after five to six months. The reminder can encourage customers to schedule their next cleaning while offering the option to book the same cleaning team if available. This improves customer convenience, strengthens loyalty, and increases repeat bookings.
